

MESF LUNCHTIME PANEL EVENT

IRAN VOTES 2017

Iran's presidential and municipal elections will be held on May 19, raising many questions: What will be the fate of President Rouhani? What do the results tell us about the success of the nuclear deal? How did women and minorities perform in the election? And is change underway in Iran? MESF is gathering an expert panel of its own members to answer these questions and discuss the election results.
